

In “Man on the Street” interviews during 1999, the Binghamton Press & Sun-Bulletin asked citizens who they would choose as Broome County’s “Person of the Millennium.”
Some of the published results:

Carol Lasenburg, Binghamton

“Rod Serling, because he inspired my son to write and use his imagination more fully. Once he read about Serling, he became interested in writing.”

James McKan, Binghamton

“Rod Serling brought theater and arts to the forefront in Broome County and gave the area a mystic persona. This place still maintains his presence. This is the Twilight Zone.”
