Opening narration:

Portrait of a young musician willing to do anything to become a world famous rock star. Enter his new manager, an odd kind of fellow with a gift of being able to give others the guitar skills of Jimi Hendrix, the lyrical talent of Lennon and McCartney, the showmanship of Freddie Mercury, and the voice and sex appeal of Elvis. What this man will soon learn is he will soon become the newest soundtrack edition of the Twilight Zone.

Closing narration:

What Billy Rocket never bargained for was that there is always the high price of paying your dues if you want to sing the blues.

Mr. Rocket having now been handed the tab and payment has been rewarded, for he will now be just another eternal selection in a Cosmic Jukebox, somewhere in a dark galactic corner of the Twilight Zone.
