

“To Get Her Together”

copyright 2018 by Victor Miller Sr.

Opening narration:

Submitted for your approval: Sherman Dingle, 70, retired plumber and widower. He's been pining away for his late wife, Emily, five years deceased. Lonely, despite his clingy daughters, interested only in their expected inheritance; Sherman is determined to resurrect his late wife despite the cost. How, you ask? You will soon learn all things are possible when you assemble it in, The Twilight Zone.

Closing narration:

Man needs a helpmate, someone to laugh with, cry with, to talk to and listen to. But as we've just learned, sometimes silence is truly golden, in the Twilight Zone.
