Opening narration:

Entering our dimension from the unknown, unknown whether the future or past, distant galaxy or a place unimaginable to man, a species far exceeding our own. Unaware why they have arrived, or what their intentions are. Luminous craft silently hovering above the major cities of our earth. All military functions have been rendered idle, all television, radio and phone signals have been interrupted.

This is Joe Benson, an ordinary man that unbeknownst to him will have his life transformed beyond all imagination by this obscure unfamiliar event that awaits him, an event far beyond his grasp of perception. He will soon be entering ...the Twilight Zone.

Closing narration:

Here we have had an unexpected history lesson, of mankind and the universe, a transformation of mind and body, an upgrade of sorts, and a lesson for Mr. Benson that was only explainable ...in the Twilight Zone.
