

“Game Show”

© 2020 by David Ray

Opening Narration:

Have you heard the old saying...“fortune favors the foolish.” Well, Betty Fleming thinks she is a contestant on a new game show, where she can win valuable prizes. Betty only has to pick the right door.

Closing Narration:

Choosing what was behind door number 3 was a far cry from anything that Betty had imagined. Instead of gifts or a trip, or a fat check, Betty found herself walking off stage in a deep, dark, and twisted reality, one only found on the stage of the Twilight Zone.