Opening Narration:

The portrait of kindness: one Melinda Hill, age twenty-two.

Occupation: care-taker of the elderly. The place: one of those idyllic, wealthy rest-stops for the diseased and infirm. Enter into the equation a haunting, unknown melody; a gift received by an aging author now incapable of remembering, but the tune is more than capable of hurling you straight into the Twilight Zone.

Closing Narration:

Exit Melinda Hill, who learned that compassion and generosity, can sometimes lead you into an unexpected trap, only waiting for you in the darkest caverns of the Twilight Zone.
