Opening Narration:

Imagine if you will, the lonely being before you. It was once known as The Spirit of Christmas Future, but with the spirit of that season waning, the title has been stripped and the Spirit is now a very conspicuous subscriber to the unemployment line. The Spirit will soon learn, however, that the skill set such as it possesses will attract peculiar bidders, but not employers from places like Monster or LinkedIn; talents like these are best recruited from the Twilight Zone.

Closing Narration:

It is said that if you love your job, you never work a day in your life. This is the former Spirit of Christmas Future, who thus far enjoys its new line of work, but knows that the devil is in the details. May this be a stepping stone to better things, now that the Spirit has a foot in the door of the Twilight Zone.
