

“The Reckoning”

© 2020 by John R. Booth

Opening Narrative:

Late in the evening, as citizens sleep, the one for whom rest never comes is searching for that one mind most deserving of his will. Tonight, he has found just that mind, that of a 93-year-old SS Officer named Gunther Müller of Hoboken New Jersey. He sleeps tonight with guarded secrets of his violent past, but as he will soon discover, secrets of this measure cannot escape the tribunal being held ...in the Twilight Zone.

Closing Narrative:

The gavel struck and sentence pronounced, SS Officer Gunther Müller now knows that justice, although not always swift, will prevail, and that those who exact their madness upon their fellow man shall answer to the charges of those lost in his hateful wake, here, in an obscure, yet hallowed corner ...of the Twilight Zone.