

“To Know the Truth”

© 2020 by Robert Hawes

Opening Narration:

Of all the frustrations of life, perhaps the most vexing yet simultaneously alluring of all, is the barrier of the forbidden: The word that must not be spoken, the thing that must not be done, the door that must not be opened. At this moment, Mr. Colin Price, stockbroker, age 25, is about to defy just such a barrier in search of a forbidden truth. One kept safely hidden until now in the deepest vaults...of the Twilight Zone.

Closing Narration:

And so, tonight, a parable to the seekers, to the insatiably curious, to all who stubbornly refuse to take ‘no’ for an answer. “Some truths will set you free; others will lock you in with them.” Look closely and you’ll find this warning clearly inscribed on every key that opens a door...into the Twilight Zone.