

“Welcome Home”

© 2020 by Reuben Nelson

Opening Narration

The moving van and car is packed up with furniture and other family possessions belonging to the Kim family. They anticipate a new beginning in life in their new home located in the countryside 45 miles north from where they lived for over 20 years. Unbeknownst to the Kims, they will soon discover their new address is not located on a map, but on a street somewhere in The Twilight Zone.

Closing Narration

Upon arrival, Mr. and Mrs. Kim found out too late in order to be new homeowners, they best have checked with the bank to ensure they have the funds to close the deal on their mortgage. Now, they find themselves with “no fixed address” in The Twilight Zone.