

“The Feature Presentation”

© 2021 by James Hughes

Opening Narration

Meet Tony Clifton, a movie star who has left a long trail of footprints on the backs of those who got him to the top of the marquee. Tonite his new agent has handed him a ticket to a test screening at a very unusual movie theatre. Mr. Clifton is about to attend the kind of feature presentation that can only be shown in the Twilight Zone.

Closing Narration

Today a parking lot occupies the space where the Rialto theatre once stood. As for our overly ambitious thespian, he has long ago lost count of how many lives he has lived or the stories of those people. At the current moment, he is searching in the darkness for the glow of that neon red exit sign, the one that resides above the only door that leads out of the Twilight Zone.