

“The Virus”

© 2021 by Enzo Muscedere

Opening Narration

The year is 2024, the world is in a state of chaos with widespread famine, disease and extreme violence the norm. This virus is not like any that has come before it as it is not a physical illness but a decaying of the mind and the soul. There is one possible cure that must be reached before it's too late and it's located within the confines of The Twilight Zone.

Closing Narration

The message is clear, for civilization to survive the world needs long term and collaborative solutions that evolve changes in attitudes, behaviors and norms. Lesson learned in The Twilight Zone.