

“Changes”

© 2023 by Steve Coney

Opening Narration

Imagine if you will, as many others have before; a world where the paradigm has flipped, where our dearly departed have decided we are dinner.

Let us look through the eyes of a simple man named Bob. Let us view his world; where a falling civilization and the rising dead intersect at a crossroads in the Twilight Zone.

Closing Narration

Perhaps, after every thing Bob learnt what we all should know... Know that when civilization is no longer civilized and humans no longer share humanity we are no better than any other monster. A dark parable from a dark corner of...the Twilight Zone.