Opening Narration

Throughout the Ages, mankind has searched for a magical elixir — a Fountain of Youth — which could halt, or even reverse, the aging process. When a promising formula was finally announced, Benjamin Laramie was sent to investigate. But what he found instead led him down a strange and unexpected path, directly into...the Twilight Zone...

Closing Narration:

‘Be careful what you wish for’ was the lesson that Benjamin and the world learned. Such desires for eternal youth are always with us, but sometimes our fondest wishes are best left alone. For the road into unexplored realms is seldom smooth and without surprises — especially when one stumbles, without warning, into...the Twilight Zone...
