

“Extended Engagement”

© 2023 by Tim Zatzariny Jr.

Opening Narration

Meet Henry Ebert, a man whose life has stopped being funny. Henry travels the highways and byways of America, making people laugh. But as he struggles to write new material, Henry’s bills pile up like a mountain moving in on him.

Outside a dimly lit club, Henry meets a fast-talking stranger who offers him the chance of a lifetime. A fateful late-night drive on a rainy expressway to the biggest show of his career will lead Henry into...the Twilight Zone.

Closing Narration

Mr. Henry Ebert, struggling comedian who only wanted to help people forget their troubles for a brief while. Even as he couldn’t outrun his own, no matter how fast he moved.

Henry learned that repaying the debt from gambling on your future can take forever.

Now, in a place where the audience never leaves, the funny man finally found a stage where the laughter is endless...in the Twilight Zone.