

“The Devil is in the Details”

© 2023 by Scott Talbot Evans

Opening Narration

Introducing our main act, Reverend Hiram Stone, a preacher with a big mouth and a set of lungs that can blow for hours, a man who holds himself in the highest regard and who practices his righteousness in front of others for them to see. All the days of his life he shouted his prayers to the heavens, but today is a little different, because today Reverend Stone is going to get an answer.

Closing Narration

Today’s sermon is on the subject of he who exalts himself shall be humbled. The good reverend found out a little too late that not all that glitters is gold. If there are any sinners out there listening, remember, let the buyer beware, because there are no exchanges and no refunds...in The Twilight Zone.