

“The Promised Land”

© 2023 by Beth Agnew

Opening Narration

An idyllic scene in a happy, prosperous country with everything to commend it. Natural beauty, peaceful streets, a thriving economy, by all measures a land of opportunity. A desired destination for many. Yet under the surface, bubbling unrest. Externally, defiant eyes cast jealous looks. In a few moments, their calm contentment will be plunged into...the Twilight Zone.

Closing Narration

In a clash of ideas, the loudest voices get the most attention. Truth can become a victim, while villains become heroes. When might is right, consciences take a beating. But sometimes the still, small voice remains the most powerful. Is the winner a patriot, or a rebel? Maybe that depends on your point of view from your seat in...the Twilight Zone.