

“Car Wash”

copyright © 2024 by David Fleming

Opening Narration

Summertime is marked by lazy hot days, cookouts, concerts and miles of cars lined up at car washes, waiting for their turn to treat their vehicles to a suds, rinse and wax job. As with drive-in car washes, you go in one way and exit out another way. This newly opened car wash in central Ohio has a very unique item added to the wash menu.

Closing Narration

The car wash that Larry Mathes wanted was only for a wash and rinse, but by the time he and his car exits the car wash, he will discover that he gotten more than a wash and rinse, because his car is travelling through the rinse cycle of the Twilight Zone, which has no exit.