

“In the Zone”

copyright © 2024 by Richard Wiseman

Opening Narration

Dr. Nigel Ros is obsessed with solving tales of mystery and dedicates every waking hour to anticipating the unexpected endings of one story after another. This addiction has erased all surprise from his life, and rendered him dull and friendless.

Tonight, Nigel will turn his analytical attention to a classic television series, see his living room door emit a strange glow, and step into The Twilight Zone.

Closing Narration

Nigel is trapped in a pitch-black world illuminated by 153 spotlights. In each one, a cigarette-smoking narrator in a sharp suit repeatedly introduces an intriguing mystery. Nigel imagines clever conclusions to every twisted tale, but robbed of denouements, can never know if he is correct.

This world is as vast as space and as timeless as infinity, and now forever tortures a man who tried to banish mystery from his life and discovered that no one can escape The Twilight Zone.