

“It's a Not So Wonderful Life”
copyright © 2024 by Robert Dodrill

Opening Narration

Christopher Potter was given a second chance at life by his guardian angel, a new outlook that invigorated his love for family and community. However, the man standing before you is not that Christopher Potter, this man is Chris Potter, the original owner of the life that Christopher briefly stepped into to find himself, unknowingly destroying Chris's life in the process and setting them both on a collision course in The Twilight Zone.

Closing Narration

A guardian angel to one, a demon to the other—unintended consequences of toiling in mirror realities, splitting the soul like an atom and inevitably leading to mutual destruction in The Twilight Zone.