

“That Which Is To Be Feared”
copyright © 2024 by Corey Martin

Opening Narration

Alexander Todd, aged thirty-five. A man filled with all the luxuries of life, yet a prisoner in his own home. Secured behind locked doors and barred windows, he is safe from outsiders, from those that mean to cause him harm, or so he believes.

Tonight, Mr. Todd's anguish is about to turn his whole world upside down when he is confronted by That Which Is To Be Feared.

Closing Narration

And now, ladies and gentleman, please pay your respects to the dearly departed Mr. Todd, a victim suffering from an intense phobia of people, who has just crossed over into the realm where silence will be his only companion.

He can now rest, forever in the knowledge that no matter where the next step of his journey takes him, it will be the kind of blissful solitude that can only be found in the Twilight Zone.