Opening Narration

Meet Richard Tyler, a boy who sees the world as one big danger zone, who bases his life off of fear and statistics looking to take the safest path down the journey of life. But tonight Richard will be forced off that path and into a world that is both strange as it is dangerous. He will have to walk a magical route where the cobblestones are books and stories, through the Twilight Zone.

Closing Narration

While traveling through the magical library of stories, Richard Tyler was taught a lesson in courage by Dr. Jekyll, Captain Ahab, Long John Silver, a Dragon, and most importantly the wizard of the written word: The Pagemaster. Returning home with his new confidence Richard can now live life to the fullest and has even picked up a few friends along way. A stirring conclusion written by the Pagemaster in the chronicles of the Twilight Zone.
